

Inward Activism and Outward Prayer

with Dan Snyder

May 2 after rise of Meeting

How does God's nonviolent Presence within empower us for nonviolent relationships with self, others, and the larger political world? We are called to lives of faithful witness. How do we transform the noise and confusion of conflicting ideas, competing spiritual practices, and the overwhelming demands of political action into a harmonious integration of spirituality and social activism?

Dan will lead us in an exploration of the transformative power of nonviolence as spiritual practice. Learn how nonviolence can help us move from systems of domination and control toward relational systems that invite integration.

Dan holds masters degrees from Earlham School of Religion and Boston University School of Theology, and a PhD in Clinical Psychology from Pacifica Graduate Institute. He has a private practice in pastoral psychotherapy in Black Mountain and Asheville, NC. He is a consultant and occasional teacher for the Common Light Meetingplace, and currently serves as clerk of the Swannanoa Valley Friends Meeting.
